

June 2021

Dear Member,

May has come and gone and summer is here. To kick off the summer we have wildlife photographer Don Quintana speaking at our June 16th meeting. You will want to attend and pick up some tips on getting those great wildlife shots. We will then be taking our usual breaks from monthly meetings in July and August.

May Landscape Winners

The theme for the May Contest was Landscape with very few post processing rules. We had 23 entrants in Tier 1 and 24 entrants in Tier 2. Below you will see the Winner in each tier as well as the Peoples Choice award for each tier.

Our Winner is Tier 1 was Tim Cully with this wonderfully executed shot of water in a slot canyon titled the Subway. Tim also won the Peoples Choice award

First Place in Tier 2 went to Charlotte Kid for this very colorful shot of the Badlands. Dawn in the Badlands

David Morgan's Mojave Midnight (Above) shared the Peoples Choice in Tier 2, With Beth Holme's seascape titled High Tide Morning. (Below)

PMP News

For April 2021 the PMP Theme Challenge was Creative Blur. The April Zoom meeting had about 16 attendees and there were 14 Creative Blur photos submitted. This was the first time we had a Creative Blur Theme since August 2019 and the submitted photos were very different from the previous challenge.

The 1st place photo was by Charlotte Kid from her backyard in North Carolina AND it was taken with an iPhone.

The May PMP Photography Composition Theme is Silhouette.

The May PMP meeting was move to June 9th 2021 at 7PM.

Donald Quintana: Nature and Wildlife Photographer

As nature and wildlife photographer based in Los Osos, California, my passion for nature and love of art fuel my photographic vision. I find comfort and renewal by spending time amidst the wonders of the natural world. My greatest enjoyment comes from capturing those fleeting moments in nature that are often missed by the casual observer and sharing them with others. I am a self-taught photographer. My formal education in art and design helps me to see and compose pleasing images of the natural world. My images are often used to promote conservation with local non-profits groups in my area. I am a member of the North American Nature Photography Association and have had my images appear regularly in their Expressions Annual Showcase publication of the top 250 images for the year. I have won several awards for my bird photography with the most prestigious being the 2018 National Audubon Photography Awards, Professional Honorable Mention: Red-winged Blackbird at Merced NWR

We're excited to welcome Don to TPC for an evening of wildlife photography insight.

To join us, LOG IN to your account on the TPC Website and go to the Events calendar for June 16th for the Zoom link. <https://tetonphotographyclub.org/zoom.us>

June Monthly Meeting Wednesday June 16, 2021

From the President

TPC Members,

Summer is here. I know many of our local members have been out capturing images of the local wildlife and I hope our remote members get a chance to visit the Tetons also. When you are photographing wildlife remember to use the 100 yard rule and set a great example for others. I hope everyone has a great summer and please join us for the June meeting.

See you there and keep shooting.
