June Meeting Wildlife photography & camera trapping in the Tetons

The June meeting will feature one of the Tetons young and upcoming photographers. Savannah Rose Burgess is a full-time freelance wildlife photographer and camera trap technician with a passion for earth's biodiversity and conservation efforts. She is specifically drawn to North America's apex predators and strives to capture portraits of the most evocative and elusive creatures. She has lived in Jackson Hole for seven years now and is grateful for the opportunity to share with you the beautiful stories of these animal's lives.

This month we are featuring the winners of our May Wildlife Contest. The contest was divided into two Levels. Level 1 was for beginners and intermediate photographers. Level 2 was for Advanced and Experts. We had over 100 entries but due to time only 80 were reviewed. Juan Pons acted as our judge. If you would like to see the meeting and judging you can watch it on YouTube. <https://youtu.be/LTKgDy3PL1k>

Would you like to see your picture featured? We'd love to include your image in the monthly newsletter. Every month I'll select a photo submitted by one of our awesome members. To submit, email me at news@tetonphotographyclub.org. Include the photo, your name, shooting data, and a few sentences about your image.
